Teaching Remotely

Whether holding a fully online class or teaching a few class sessions remotely, your Academic Technologist can provide recommendations for tools to use and how to structure your course.

Overall Guidance for Online Teaching

Best Practices for Teaching Remotely - a quick read that covers the major topics to consider when setting up an online course.

Accessibility and Online Teaching - a set of recommendations focused on making online courses more accessible to all students

Technology for Teaching

Tools for Online Teaching - a summary of common teaching needs and how to provide them for an online class.

Online Teaching Resources - a collection of links to information for online teaching, including general and discipline specific recommendations

Teaching Spaces

Personal Teaching Studio Recommendations - guidance on setting up your home or office as a teaching space

Remote Teaching Studios - ITS has spaces on campus designed for remote teaching, including cameras, lighting, whiteboards, and other technology